The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Claims 1-7 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

Claims 1-7 recite "inner lead type writing instruments". This term is not recognized by the examiner as a term of art. Therefore, it is unclear what applicants intend by this terminology.

Claim 2 recites "pigments other than said white...pigments". The claim, however, does not include a positive statement that such pigments are included in the composition. It is unclear whether applicants intend pigments to be optional.

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1-7 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Ikoma.

Ikoma discloses aqueous pigment based inks suitable for writing instruments. The inks are disclosed as comprising phthalocyanine blue or quinacridone red pigments (pp 24) in amounts such as claimed instantly (claim 4). The further incorporation of styrene acrylic or styrene maleic acid copolymers in amounts such as instantly claimed is taught at paragraphs 35 and 37. Ink viscosities of 1-10 mPa.s are taught at claim 2.

Suitable writing instruments are taught as including those with fiber bundles as feed mechanism is taught at paragraph 55.

Therefore the reference anticipates the rejected claims.
